NOT ONE MAN RETURNED TO WORK, REPORT OF LEADERS

Both Sides "Sit Tight" Hoping for Mutual Agreement

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3.—Not a man returned to the mines today, according to dispatches to the International News Service from Linton, Bicknell and other points in the heart of the Indiana bituminous coal fields. Miners in the Bicknell district, as well as the operators, are "sitting tight" today, hoping for mutual agreement whereby the mines can be opened. It is doubtful, if both operators and miners said, if the men would head a recall of the original strike order if they felt that it was forced by the government, but if the order were rescinded, voluntarily by John L. Lewis, acting president of the mine workers, they would respond.

The government will ask that the original strike edict be recalled in its application for permanent injunction against the miners officials here next Saturday. Miners in the Bicknell field do not expect to win their demand for 60 per cent increase in wages, it was admitted today, but they do expect a substantial increase. Neither will they press the demand for a six hour day.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3.—Plans were being made here today for the legal battle to be staged by attorneys for officials of the United Mine Workers of America and the United States government in the federal court here Saturday, when the hearing will be held on the government's plea for a permanent injunction against miners officials in an effort to break the nationwide strike of bituminous coal miners.

Reports are in circulation here that various prominent attorneys have been engaged to participate in the fight, the latest name being that of Wm. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury on the side of the miners.

Members of the local Aerie of Eagles, No. 1689, who were in the service of their country during the late unpleasantness, were the guests of the Aerie at a banquet tendered them in the Eagles hall on East Main street Friday evening.

The Eagles claim as large a representation in the service as any lodge in the county, 26 of their members wearing Uncle Sam's uniforms. State Vice President Eldon F. Hayes of Hilda Aerie 1224 who was scheduled to be the principal speaker, was unable to be present.

Following the banquet, Worthy President Ed. Burtis, acted as toastmaster and called for a number of impromptu speeches.

A pretty tableau was given when little Miss Margaret Regan, posed as the Goddess of Liberty and she was given considerable applause.

There were 125 people present at the affair.

COL. C. YOUNG GETS STATION AT LIBERIA

Col. Charles L. Young of Wilberforce has received official notice of his appointment, for the second time, as military attaché at Monrovia, Liberia, where he was stationed at the outbreak of the war.

He wired today, his acceptance of the detail to the War Department which means that he will be notified to report at Washington to the Army College for a short time before sailing for Liberia to take charge of his duties.

Col. Young will probably be summoned to Washington within a week. Mrs. Young will remain at their home at Wilberforce for a time before going to France, where she will probably remain to be near her children. Marie Emelie Young will be placed in school in France this year, accompanying Madame L. Chapoteau, a French woman who is a guest at the Young home, upon her return trip to that country. Noe Young, the 12 year old son of the Colonel and Mrs. Young will remain in school at Wilberforce University this year, but next year his father expects to place him in E-cole St. Genes, at Bordeaux, to study agriculture.

Col. Young is the highest ranking negro officer in the army. He graduated from West Point in 1893, being the second negro youth to complete the course at the government military school. His first military duties were on the western frontier, where he spent four years. In 1893 and 1898 he was in charge of military instruction at Wilberforce University, succeeding Lieutenant Alexander, who died there in the service. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war he was placed in command of the colored troops in Ohio, and after the close of the war was sent to the Philippines. Returning to this country he was stationed in California as superintendent of national parks in 1902-1903.

His next appointment was to Haiti and San Domingo as military attaché. While there he made a map and monograph of the island for the government. He spent four years from 1903 to 1907 in the negro republics, and was then ordered to the Philippines where he spent two years in regimental duty. He was then a major. He did Mexican border duty under General Carter for two years.

His first appointment as military attaché at Liberia came in 1912, and he was there until 1914. Returning from Africa in 1916, he was with General Pershing on the border, and received his lieutenant-colonelcy. He was commissioned colonel in the early part of 1917.

About that time an order was made retiring Colonel Young on the grounds that he was physically incapacitated. The same order however left him on active duty.

With all a soldier's eagerness to be of service to his country, Col. Young chafed under his inactivity. In the early part of 1918, he made a memorable trip by horseback to Washington, called upon the secretary of war, and assured him that he was physically fit for service. He was assured of an appointment, and upon expressing preference for duty in France was given to understand that he would be assigned for overseas duty. The assignment was not received, through an official misunderstanding. In November of that year he was placed in charge of the development units at Camp Grant, serving until those units were all mustered out. He has since been at his home at Wilberforce.

Col. and Mrs. Young were in Liberia and their children in a convent school in Belgium when the war broke out in Europe. For weeks they were unable to get into communication with the children, and finally the German consul general at Monrovia, sent a message to the German governor general in Belgium, through whom the young children were located. Their school had been completely hedged in by German troops. The children were finally allowed an escort to Rotterdam where their mother took charge of them. To reach her children, Mrs. Young made the trip from Liberia to Bordeaux, across the channel to England, across that section of water again to Rotterdam, and then made the same trip back with the children, braving submarines and mines.

FIRST MILL CLOSES: NO COAL
Trenton, N. J., Nov. 3.—The steel cable plant of the John A. Roeblings Sons company closed down today on account of the coal strike, throwing between 5,000 and 6,000 persons out of work.

LEADERS OF OPPOSING FORCES IN COAL STRIKE.

A. Mitchell Palmer

The position of the Government in the threatened strike of the coal miners was set forth in a forceful statement issued by Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer, part of which follows: "The proposed strike would be a more deadly attack upon the life of the nation than an invading army." The Attorney-General also warned the miners that the Government is the protector of public welfare.

The attitude taken by the mine workers at their recent conference in Indianapolis is a defiance of the Government's effort to prevent the paralysis of the country's industries. If the issue must be settled on the field of industrial battle, say the miners, the responsibility rests upon the mine operators.

PROHIBITION AND TAXATION ISSUES DRAW INTEREST OF VOTERS AT POLLS TUESDAY

The wet and dry fight and the battle for and against the classification amendment are the principal state issues that will come before the people at the regular election Tuesday.

Probably the fight for and against prohibition is creating the most comment, there being considerable agitation on both sides of the question.

There will be two ballots to help complicate the voter, with two issues printed on each. Those who wish to vote dry can follow the instruction of William Jennings Bryan, who in his address here, advised dry voters to vote "yes" on the longer ballot and "no" on the shorter ballot.

Ohio Real Battle Ground of National Prohibition

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—"The real battle ground of the nation in the struggle for prohibition is Ohio," declared William Jennings Bryan, addressing a meeting of dry enthusiasts here. "Ohio is the undisputed leader of the dry movement. What she does in the coming elections will be of signal interest throughout the nation," said Bryan.

"If Ohio gives us a victory at the election booths Tuesday, I can safely promise that there will be a dry plank in both Republican and Democratic platforms in the national campaign next year, thus insuring for all time a dry United States," Bryan said.

The other state issue to come up is the classification amendment which provides for the classification of property for taxation purposes. The amendment provides that real estate shall be placed in first class and demand the highest tax, that intangible personal property shall be placed in second class, and demand the next highest tax, while money, bonds and securities will only have to pay the smallest or a very low tax.

The county issue is the two mill road levy, for good roads. If this is passed the county will have $100,000 at its disposal to improve county roads, at present a most important factor to city and county. The two mill levy will not be especially noticeable in the taxes, and will not interfere with school or other levies in the least. It is not expected that

AGRICULTURAL HEAD RAPS BOTH CAPITAL AND LABOR

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—"If capital wants enough to eat, if organized labor wants to be fed, let them show their willingness to co-operate by cutting out large profits and by giving a full day's work for a full day's pay," declared Dean Alfred Vivian of the college of agriculture, Ohio State University.

"The American farmer is willing to meet the issue honestly and squarely, there will be much opposition to the bill.

In Xenia city, the matter of electing two commissioners to fill the vacancies made by the expiration of the terms of two of these men. Both of the regular commissioners, Dr. A. D. DeHaven and Harry Fisher are candidates for re-election. The Citizens' Committee, an organization gotten together at the time of the formation of the Commission-manager form of government, is backing two new candidates, S. M. McKay and H. L. Sayre. All candidates are non-partisan.

Another purely local issue will be the vote to issue $15,000 worth of city bonds to carry on street paving and sanitary sewer work. The levy means .15 of a mill or 145 cents on each $1,000 worth of property and will be a small increase in taxes for anyone. There are now a number of new houses under construction which can not be finished if the sanitation sewers are not put in soon.

The levy includes paving the city's share on East Church, Hivling, Leaman, Chestnut, High, East Second, West, Union, Pleasant Shawnee, Gordon, Maple and Shepherd streets and sanitary sewers on West, East Second, East Main, East Market, Monroe, Hill, Columbus, Chestnut, High, George and Center streets and Xenia avenue.

The polls will open at 5:30 in the morning and close at 5:30 in the evening, although it will probably be late at night before the votes are counted.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WALDO H. SAWIN

Brief funeral services for Waldo H. Sawin, of New York, were held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the mortuary chapel in Woodland cemetery. The Rev. J. D. Herron, rector of Christ Episcopal church, officiated.

Mrs. Sawin returned to New York starting soon after the burial service, business demanding her attention at home as soon as possible. She expects to return to Xenia next week, and be here for some time.

RAIL TROUBLE IN GERMANY
Berlin, Nov. 3.—Consternation was caused throughout Germany today by the announcement of the cabinet that passenger railway service will be discontinued for ten days beginning Nov. 5, to save coal. Newspapers are bitterly criticizing the decision.

but apparently, the solution of the problem of cheaper food lies not on the farm, but in the city," Dean Vivian said.

"Certain it is so long as labor is so high, and the farmer has to pay the present prices for commodities he must purchase, there can be no such things as lower prices for farm products, and the city must pay the price or go without.

No Steps Toward Mediation; Capitol Is Still Optimistic

Washington, Nov. 3.—President Wilson will make no further efforts to arbitrate the coal strike unless the strike leaders call off the strike, it was announced at the White House today.

The president stands ready to appoint a tribunal to settle the difficulties between the miners and operators, it was stated, but he will not name any tribunal while the strike is in progress.

The president's plans for a new industrial conference also are being held up pending settlement of the coal strike, it was announced. The president has approved fifteen members of the new commission but will not call them into session during the strike, it was stated. It was believed that any such conference at this time would be unable to meet industrial issues without confining general issues with the issue of the coal strike, just as the steel strike issue was thrown into the first industrial conference.

The full effect of the national coal strike was felt today. Officials of the United Mine Workers of America claimed that few, if any, of the miners who obeyed the strike order Saturday morning, had gone back to work.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Government officials expect today to show the real strength of the coal strike.

There was optimism in official circles today based largely upon confidential telegrams to Attorney General Palmer which indicated that many of the miners would return to their work this morning and that the strike would not have the paralyzing effect that was indicated Saturday.

The government is awaiting evidences of the actual strength of the strike before taking any further steps. Today protection will be afforded all miners who desire to return to their work.

Attorney General Palmer will brook no agitation. He has taken steps to prevent strike leaders or sympathizers from exerting any influence upon those who appear at the mines today ready to work. To this end he has instructed all district attorneys to report immediately any acts which indicate an effort to restrict the production of coal.

That the government intends to proceed as vigorously against the operators as against the miners, was indicated by the attorney general's sharp letter to the wholesale trade association of New York protesting against the government regulation of prices. The attorney general's answer to this protest was couched in no uncertain terms and made it plain that the government will not stand for profiteering by any.

It is understood that this association has entered protest with President Wilson and has asked for representation on the regional committee having charge of coal distribution. In as much as the president has placed the situation largely in the hands of Attorney General Palmer it is not expected that he will overturn any of the steps already taken.

The action of Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in urging that an industrial commission be appointed to settle all industrial difficulties, was accepted here as an indication that the great labor leaders of the nation are anxious that a settlement be effected in the coal strike at the earliest possible moment.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was expected to return here today and make a statement as to the reported steps he has taken to bring about a settlement of all strike issues including the coal and steel strikes.

There was every evidence today that both the mine workers and the operators are in a conciliatory mood and that they would accept a proposition for arbitration more readily now than last week. With this in view some officials were willing to predict today that the coal strike will not last for more than ten days. It was pointed out that both sides realize that with the government maintaining its strict policy no advantage can be maintained by either the miners or the operators.

Reports reaching the railroad administration today declared that there have been large seizures of coal in accordance with the orders issued by Fuel Administrator Garfield and Director General Hines of the railroad administration.

Distribution of coal according to preferential lists was to be under full progress today.

Manufacturers and coal users were placing their requests with regional boards in large numbers, the reports declared. The war department continued its silence as to the disposition of troops and merely reiterated statements to the effect that the question of troop movements had been placed in the hands of the departmental commanders.

High Spots in Strike From Here And There

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 3.—Movement of the 500 U. S. troops from Fort Russell to the coal mining regions of this state was complete today following Governor Cary's request that protection be furnished at the mines for men who expressed a wish to return to work. The troops distribution was made under secret orders but it is known that many went to Rock Springs, the largest field in Wyoming.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 3.—Reports from the coal mining districts of Michigan this morning, indicate that the 2,500 miners in the soft coal fields are remaining away from the mines today. President William Stevenson of the Michigan Miners' Union district said this morning that the Michigan men would remain until the strike is settled one way or another. Springfield, Ill., Nov. 3.—The third of the coal strike in Illinois saw an unchanged situation from that of the opening day Saturday. Not a mine is working. No disturbances are reported at union or coal operators headquarters. John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, visited in Springfield today, refused to discuss the situation.

AQUATIC FEATS
MARK DENISON-
MIAMI CONTEST

A few Xenia fans, mostly alumni or students at either Denison or Miami, saw the aquatic feats at Triangle "Lake" in Dayton Saturday, when the Oxford lads ruined the Ohio Conference championship aspirations of the Baptists by the score of 14-0.

The day was disagreeable. A driving rain continued practically the entire game, and the field was a marsh of mud and water.

The sort of day that it was, probably aided Miami in winning. The slow field handicapped the quick, forward-passing Livingston aggregation and gave the heavier Miami forwards a big advance. They showed more speed in the muck than did the Denison lads.

By playing a 0-0 tie with Cincinnati, Wittenberg kept itself in the Conference running and may be heard from yet in deciding the championship. Wooster and Oberlin are still recorded on the win column, and Akron took a heavy fall out of Mt. Union. However the first two teams are looked to furnish the stove-league argument, as they do not meet each other this season, and in case they both come out undefeated, there will be a lively dispute to settle.

In case Wittenberg sneaks through with a perfect record, since the Denison and Cincinnati ties do not count, the Lutherans would also be in the conference argument.

Everything seems to be going Ohio State's way in the Western Conference. As the result of the startling upsets of the dope in the Big Ten games Saturday, State remains the only team still undefeated.

In case Purdue defeats Ohio State on the coming weak end, there would be a hopeless tie for the Big Ten honors, but the Harley men do not consider the Boilermakers dangerous, and are not anticipating any trouble from them.

Coach Zuppke of Illinois sprung the big surprise of the Saturday afternoon set-tos, when he developed his team into defeating Chicago, 10-0. Minnesota showed a complete reversal of form in winning from Wisconsin. The Gophers had been held to a tie by Nebraska and defeated by Iowa, and seemed to have no chance with Wisconsin when they entered the lists Saturday.

Putting over two touchdowns in the last nine minutes of play, Michigan retrieved a game from the fire, and defeated Northwestern, after the latter had the contest sewed up. Notre Dame secured a strong hold on the Indiana championship by defeating Indiana, 16-3, while Purdue downed the Michigan Aggies by the score of 13-7. Ames sprung a surprise also by defeating Nebraska while Iowa, as was expected, easily defeated South Dakota.

Keep Your Money in Ohio
Keep Your Home in Ohio
Keep Your Industry in Ohio

Keep your money in Ohio for you will have an opportunity at the Election, November 4th, to vote for an amendment to the Constitution that guarantees, under a system of classification of property for taxation, as square a deal for your money as you will find in any other state.

(This Kentucky advertisement surely is the last word in answer to the opposition to classification)

Bring Your Money
To Kentucky

Bring your money to Kentucky if you want it to work for you under tax laws that give a square deal to money—money on deposit or money invested.

Bring your money to Kentucky and invest it in any industry and you will find you won't be penalized by tax laws that confiscate your money's earnings.

Bring your money to Kentucky and buy a productive farm in a State where the crown of tax inequality is not pressed down on the brow of the man who has his money in land.

Bring your money to Kentucky where each class of property is taxed according to its ability to earn; where, under our system of classification which has been in effect for two years, the tax revenues derived from land have been reduced from 77% to 57% of the entire tax revenues collected.

Bring your money to Kentucky for deposit or investment under a tax law that does not punish the honest taxpayer; that offers no incentive for any taxpayer to be dishonest; that operates so fairly on all classes of property that tax-evasion is rapidly being reduced to a minimum.

Kentucky has wonderfully fertile fields, coal enough to energize the whole United States, splendid rail and water (Ohio River) transportation, unexcelled manufacturing sites, plentiful financial resources, a liberal buying public, and FAIR TAX LAWS. Louisville, the Heart of America, is the gateway to Kentucky and the South and offers unexcelled opportunities to industries.

More than one million dollars available for factory development purposes.

Keep your home in Ohio for with the adoption of Classification billions of dollars worth of intangible wealth will add millions to the tax revenues and make possible a reduction in the taxes now collected from farms and homes even greater than the reduction Kentucky was able to make in the taxes on these classes of property, under Classification.

Keep your industry in Ohio for Classification will enable the General Assembly of this state to divide property into classes according to its use and its earning power and to fix a rate of taxation for each class that will also take into consideration whether it is the kind of property that decreases in value with use or whether it increases in value.

Kentucky is entitled to the prestige she has earned by her earlier adoption of the just method of taxing property according to its ability to pay, which means its ability to earn, but by the adoption of the same system Ohio can excel in all that contributes to make this the best state in which to earn a living, operate a business and own property.

Keep all that you have in Ohio. Decline the inviting offer presented by the "Kentucky Ad," herewith reproduced from one of the many Ohio newspapers in which it recently appeared, and vote for the Classification Amendment at the Election, November 4th.

JUDGE SMITH GIVES VIEWS ON CLASSIFICATION AMENDMENT

In refutation of much that has been said against the classification of property for taxation which will be presented in the form of an amendment to the constitution to the voters of Ohio Tuesday, former Judge H. L. Smith, of Greene county common pleas court, has written The Gazette taking the pros and cons of the question. Editor Gazette: The following are some facts that ought to be of sufficient weight to turn the scales in favor of giving classification a fair trial.

1. The tax duplicate of Greene county is 82 1-2 millions of which 52 1-2 millions is real estate. So that in this county real estate is paying 64 per cent of the taxes. In Kentucky under the uniform rule in 1917 real estate paid 77 per cent of the taxes, but in 1918 under classification only paid 57 per cent.

2. Only 12 states of the 48 have the uniform rule of taxation. None of the states that have adopted classification have gone back to the uniform rule.

Classification has been in force in several states for a number of years and found satisfactory. In Connecticut at night before the votes are Minnesota 9 years.

Each and every state, bordering on Ohio has classification. North and South Dakota, two strictly agricultural states have classification. Ohio is the only industrial state having the uniform rule.

3. The tax duplicate shows that in Greene county but two millions six hundred thousand dollars are returned for credits for taxation, when we know that in the two building and savings companies in Xenia, alone, there are three million, seven hundred thousand dollars.

The same duplicate shows but two millions, three hundred and eighty thousand dollars returned for taxation in money when we know that in Xenia alone, in the three banks, there is an average deposit of two millions five hundred thousand dollars. There are seven banks and at least 18,000 people in Greene county outside of Xenia.

4. Each and every county and city in Ohio is in a terrible financial condition and hunting for relief. Classification if adopted if not a success can be dropped at any time as it is left entirely with the legislature, and it would not require a change in the constitution. We need not fear great disasters to follow on a mere trial.

5. In Minnesota an agricultural state only 6,200 persons returned money and credits in 1910, under the uniform rule. Since that time classification has been in force and last year the number of returning money and credits was 98,501. Mere guesses and opinions of those who oppose classification surely should not outweigh the actual results where same has been in force several years.

6. And now for the benefit of those who talk so eloquently about fairness and equality in taxation and the inequality imposed upon real estate. I want to state some facts relating to a sale of a farm within the last four weeks in order that the above mentioned talkers may have some "food for thought."

The farm known as the Joseph Routzong farm of 183.63 acres north of Xenia and near Old Town sold for $210 per acre or for $39,556.30. This farm is on the tax duplicate for taxation at $100 per acre and the improvement at $3,600 in all 21,963.

Next April what amount of the purchase money should the seller return? Shall he return $39,556.30 and pay taxes on $17,593.30 more than the purchase of the land. Here they are side by side, one has the land the other its value. So the land is not hard hit in this instance.

But a step farther, the seller of the land was not alarmed over the dire disasters predicted to real estate owners and within a few days after sale came to Xenia and bought a home for $5,500—that is on the tax duplicate at $4,340. Shall the holder of the proceeds of sale return $5,500 when the owner of the home will pay taxes on only $4,340?

Verily on this question of taxation for taxation the owner of real estate either in the city or country is not and need not be alarmed to continue to be a real estate and home owner. Some of the alarming stories predicting disaster come from dream-land.

DAYTON TRIANGLES
DEFEAT CINCINNATI
CELTS BY 26-0 SCORE

Playing the best brand of ball they have displayed this season, the Dayton Triangles defeated the Cincinnati Celts at Triangle Park, Dayton, Sunday, by the score of 26-0.

The Triangles took warning from the disastrous Cleveland Panther game several weeks ago and showed much better form in their battle against the Celts.

Another interesting bit of football dope was sprung in the win registered by the McKinleys over the Beavers, the Riverdale lads defeating the Highland Park crowd 7-0. The Beavers defeated the Xenia Maroons on a muddy field in Dayton several weeks ago. The Maroons then defeated the McKinleys 14-7 here and now the defeat of the Beavers at the hands of the McKinleys, complicates the dope. Manager Paul Walker of the Maroons, has been lending every effort to get the Beavers to come over here but they seem satisfied with their victory, and do not want to jeopardize their reputation. A newspaper challenge to the Beavers will be issued soon in an attempt to get them to play here.

PAUL SHOEMAKER CALLS FORTH WIT OF BOB RYDER

The following item among Bob Ryder's paragraphs in the Ohio State Journal concerns Paul Shoemaker for mer Xenian. One of our former bright young men, Mr. Paul Shoemaker, to be exact who not long ago severed his connection with this old palladium of liberty to enter the field of airplane salesmanship, suggests in his half-humorous way that we purchase a ship, as he terms it, on the ground that it has only one grease cup, but while this certainly is a good talking point, we should still have the tail spin to reckon with."

The girls of the Domestic Science class served pumpkin pies and cocoa. All seemed to enjoy the occasion.

Millions of people know the magic of Pape's Diapepsin as an antacid. They know that indigestion and disordered stomach are so needless. The relief comes quickly, no disappointment, and they cost so little too.

THOUGHT MY LIVER
WAS ON A STRIKE

Head Was Giddy, Spots Danced
Before My Eyes, Breath Foul, was Tired and Drowsy. Dreco Wiped It Out.

"I have suffered for quite a while with sluggish liver; at times I would get so dizzy I would have to stop and sit down; spots would dance before my eyes; I had headaches and a bad taste in my mouth, my appetite became poor and my food did not digest nor give me strength; my stomach was often sour, while gas and bloating caused me much uneasiness. The pains often extended round to my back and limbs so that it was an effort to keep on with my work," says Mr. A. C. Rex, member of the firm of Rex Bros., of Harrod, O., near Lima.

"There was so much talk about and praise being given Dreco, I decided to try it. The first bottle proved to me it was a good medicine, as it soothed my stomach and relieved the gas forming. I continued the treatment, and never have a dizzy spell nor see the spots before my eyes, my bowels act regular; my appetite is fine; the food digests and gives me strength; I don't have any more pains in my back or limbs, and haven't had a headache in a long time. Dreco is a good medicine and I gladly add my words of praise for it."

Dreco acts on the liver in a smooth, gentle manner, gradually working off the excess bile day by day. It is neither strong nor harsh and does not excite the muscles of the bowels as strong cathartics do. It tones up the digestive organs and relieves gas on the stomach; puts an end to constipation; increases the appetite; gives strength to weak kidneys; restores tired nerves and induces sound sleep. Dreco is a great blood purifier and system cleanser.

All good druggists now sell Dreco, and it is highly recommended in this city by Sohn's Drug Store.

A SAMPLE GOOD ROADS COUNTY.

While we are getting our breath from the intake of personal vitality caused by the strikes, a look at home interests ought to be some relief.

All people who deprecate being called "stick-in-the-mud" are on the other hand heartily in favor of Good roads. Good roads are indicative of enterprising citizenship. Poor roads tell the story of a poor country.

Example has ever stood as a good school teacher. What others have done in the way of betterment, should invite us to follow their example.

Huron County is situated in the northern part of the state of Ohio about midway between its eastern and western boundary lines. Its northern limits are from 8 to 15 miles south of the southern shore of Lake Erie.

Huron County, Ohio, has proved that a moderate, or even a low, assessed valuation of a county's total wealth is no insurmountable barrier to securing a modern system of concrete highways. As an example to other counties, and impelled by a desire to share its helpful experiences with its sister counties in Ohio and in other states, an illustrated brochure is issued in which facts are presented concerning the development and satisfactory service of Huron County's modern highway system.

Huron County began building concrete roads in 1912. About three miles were completed that year.
Since 1912 a large mileage has been laid every year until today, the county has approximately 100 miles of concrete roads. With those now under contract, the mileage will increase this year to about 115 miles.

On the main traveled roads, the concrete is laid 16 feet wide. On the less important connecting roads the concrete is 10 feet wide laid at one side of the road with a 12-foot dirt strip at the other side. Experience has proved that it is inadvisable to build anything between a 10 and 16-foot width.

The 10-foot pavement has been built to one side of the roadway, with a dirt road on the other, in preference to building in the center. This has proven to be most satisfactory to traffic as it affords in good weather a dirt track for horse-drawn vehicles, tractors and threshing outfits. It also gives the farmer hauling heavy loads to town the right of way over an even, rigid and durable surface and makes it possible to lay another strip of concrete should future traffic require widening the roadway.

No reinforcement is used in the 10-foot roads, but all 16-foot roads built in the last three years have been reinforced. The maintenance cost on the 16-foot roads not reinforced has been considerably larger than on those reinforced.

The maintenance cost of the entire

INDIGESTION
Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, heartburn, flatulence, etc. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—such as, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repelling, sour, gassy stomach. There are many disorders which, when they do not cause much discomfort in the stomach itself, are nevertheless traceable to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, dizziness, of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental ailments that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these symptoms at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called LAXA-PIRIN now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of LAXA-PIRIN writes: "I have been troubled with nervous indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using LAXA-PIRIN for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. LAXA-PIRIN is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try LAXA-PIRIN and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

system was $41.20 a mile in 1917 and $29.44 per mile in 1918, the heaviest part of the maintenance cost being on the wider roads. The maintenance cost on the 10-foot roads for 1918 was only $4.79 per mile.

11 HENS IDLE; NOW LAY
221 EGGS A MONTH

Mrs. Young Almost Gave Up Raising
Chickens. Then She Tried This Plan.

"When I accepted your offer and tried Don Sung, I had been getting 1 or 2 eggs every other day. The next month, using 50 cents worth of Don Sung, my 11 hens laid 224 eggs. I almost gave up raising chickens, but now I have decided to raise as many as I can."—Mrs. F. C. Young, Bellefonte, Pa.

Feed is too expensive to waste on idle hens. You can easily start your hens laying and keep them laying, even in coldest winter. To prove it, all you need do is accept our offer, as Mrs.
Young did.

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-forming organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail.
Get Don Sung from your druggist or

Big Lot of
Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Men Say—People Who

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Rem-

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Aerine and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and snuff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Aerine say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

J. A. WHITE, MANAGER

Over Three Quarters Of a Million

To Be Spent By City Commission During Next Two Years

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW BEFORE YOU VOTE

The largest sum ever spent by either city or county within the same length of time will be expended by the City Commission during the next two years. It amounts to about $65 for every man, woman and child in Xenia. Here is the estimate:

Water Company property	$260,000
Water plant extension	65,000
Paving let (asphalt 192,000, brick 5,000)	197,000
Paving to be let (estimated)	100,000
Sewer extensions	60,000
Running expenses	80,000
Total	$762,000

This is a very large sum and it is highly important that it be spent right. You should get value received for every dollar of your money, whether you pay it directly for paving in front of your property or indirectly on the general duplicate.

Remember These Facts About the Paving Just Let

The following are facts, which you may verify from the city records. A contract for paving was recently let by the city. When the first bids were opened the Andrews Company of Hamilton was the only bidder on asphalt. Their price was too high, out of line with what the city manager's estimate showed it ought to be. He advised rejecting all bids and calling for new ones. FISHER VOTED AGAINST THIS. He was outvoted and two weeks later a new set of bids was opened which fully vindicated the manager's advice. The Andrews Company, although they had declared they would not lower their price, dropped $14,000 on Trinidad asphalt and $17,000 on oil asphalt—a big saving. But this time there was another asphalt bidder, Conley, of Dayton, who was $10,000 lower on oil asphalt than Andrews' second bid. DeHaven and Fisher voted against giving the contract to Conley, preferring to give it to the Andrews Company for Trinidad asphalt at a price $18,000 higher. They were outvoted. We do not wish to be unfair to DeHaven and Fisher on this second vote. The lowest bid is not always the best, and the question of Trinidad versus oil asphalt is a vexed one in Xenia. But in voting to pay a premium to the Barber trust they acted against the advice of the city manager, who is backed by the experience of engineers of different parts of the country.

Andrews Company, first bid on Trinidad	$224,000	Conley, bid on oil asphalt (accepted)	192,000
Andrews Company, first bid on oil asphalt	$219,000	SAVING BY MAJORITY VOTING AGAINST FISHER
City manager's estimate for oil asphalt	185,000	TWICE	32,000
Andrews Company, second bid on Trinidad	210,000	Saving by majority voting against DeHaven and
Andrews Company, second bid on oil asphalt	202,000	Fisher	18,000

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

EARLY MAP OF XENIA GIVEN TO CO. LIBRARY

An old map of Xenia, which bears no date, but is estimated as being very old and probably one of the first maps of this city ever made, is now in the possession of the Greene County Library. The map was given to the Library by Frank A. Poland, of New York City and will be gladly shown by the librarians. It will undoubtedly be of interest to Xenians who are interested in its historical value. The names on the list of subscribers bears evidence of the age of the map, the names being either those of early Xenians or firms and banking houses, which have long since gone. There are pictures of the old Court House, a few churches, and one fine residence around the border, which adds to the value of the map.

Newspaper Publication Makes Debut in Ohio

The first issue of The Ohio Newspaper, a monthly publication devoted to the interests of newspaper making and put out by the department of journalism of the Ohio State University, is in the mails.

The Ohio Newspaper is essentially an Ohio publication. It is sent free to all papers in the state, and contains matters of interest to the newspapers where it circulates. This is the first attempt at a newspaper of this kind in this state. Several other states have successfully had similar publications for some time. The publication is free to Ohio papers, and a nominal rate of $2 per year is charged to others.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

Everett Junior.

CHAPTER XIX.

Everett never had been thoughtful—I did not know it was in him. Although I recalled that whenever I had been ill he had been considerate. Perhaps he thought when I was well, I didn't need consideration.

Without my knowledge he had sent for mother and she came about two weeks before my birth was born. I was so delighted to have her. Now it seemed to me I never should be unhappy again. When I held my boy in my arms I forgot all the mean things that people had said when Everett married me. I forgot his neglect and was happy as the day was long.

Mother remained with us until Everett Jr. was two weeks old, then she went back to dad, who never was happy if she were away from him. Everett had hired a competent nurse, and after mother left she took entire charge not only of me but of the baby. At first it seemed only natural that this should be so, but by the time baby was a month old I had commenced to resent her rule and Everett's insistence that she should be obeyed.

"He is my baby! I ought to have something to say," I complained. The nurse was a woman about forty-five years old, rather austere and terribly determined. Dad would have said she was "set in her ways."

She seemed to think it was bad for the baby to be cuddled or rocked. And if I started to walk about with him in my arms, she was as shocked as if I had committed murder.

When I spoke to Everett about it, he said:

"You are too young to know anything about raising a child. Miss Lane has been a nurse for years. I insist that you do as she says."

"I wasn't too young to have the boy, if I am too young to have anything to say about him!" I retorted, more hurt than angry. "And Miss Lane never has had a baby; she doesn't know how dreadfully a mother wants to love and cuddle her very own child."

"Miss Lane has had wide experience. She has cared for many babies, and the doctor assures me is one of the very best nurses on his list—a long one. I have hired her to remain permanently—that is, until she refuses to stay longer. I hope you will be careful not to say or do anything to make her leave us."

"You mean she is to stay right along? I thought we would have a nice young nurse, a girl like Hetty, for him when he was a little older."

"I shall run no risks with my son. We shall retain Miss Lane."

Our conversation ended for the time, but my heart was filled with resentment toward Miss Lane, and also toward Everett. He has said: "I shall run no risks with my son," just as if the baby belonged entirely to him. He might have said "our son," I thought, my eyes filling.

Was my precious baby to be another cause for unhappiness between us, instead of the joy I had supposed he would be? I loved my darling boy passionately. And to have Everett shut me out by saying "MY boy," and to have that woman who didn't know how it felt to be mother of a baby tell me what I couldn't or could do with him, was maddening.

"I won't stand it!" I muttered, yet I knew down in my heart I should have to stand it, just as I had had to endure other things in my life, because Everett willed it should.

I wondered dumbly if other wives had such emotional ups and downs as I had—if others had to have the sweet periods offset by periods of unhappiness caused by inharmonious with their husbands.

Tomorrow—Sandra Rebels at Miss Lane's Command.

Announcement is being made of the birth of a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baldwin (Gretchen Bloom) at the Casod Hospital, Friday afternoon.
